Reflection & Living Stewardship

Stewardship
A Way of Life

"At an hour you do not expect, the Son of Man will come," says today's Gospel. Good stewards know that they are accountable to God for all they have and are and strive to live in readiness for His coming.

We are grateful this week for all stewards in our parish who use the season of Advent to prepare for Christ's coming, be it at the end of the world or the close of their earthly lives.

Charismatic Prayer GroupPREPPING FOR BABY

As most expectant parents can tell you - especially first-timers - there's a lot to do to get ready for the baby's arrival. Since Jesus lives in your heart, how will you prepare for His arrival? Our meetings are a good place to start. We are gathering every Monday from December 2-23 at 7:30PM. Each week's bulletin will tell you where the meeting will be held.

Our next meeting is Monday, Dec. 2nd at 7:30PM in St. Alphonsus Hall. All ages 18 and over are welcome. Call (516) 993-9672 for prayer requests or more information.

Letter from the Pastor

THE WORDS OF ADVENT

I have never been a fan of David Letterman. When I stay up late, I prefer reruns of the Honeymooners or Seinfeld. Still I do know he is famous for his top ten lists. Here is a list of my top ten themes of Advent. I think we Catholics are much better with Lent than we are with Advent. The ashes seem to have more power in our lives than do the lighting of Advent Candles. Additionally, Advent has some incredible competition: the Christmas shopping, decorating, parties, food preparation, as well as the National Football League. So, I decided to give my top ten themes for Advent. Perhaps you might pray for a few minutes on one each day. You can repeat this until December 24th. If you have time to meditate on December 24th, I will give you a Christmas Snickers Bar!

Our parish is also offering the time to reflect on the Gospels, on the Saturdays of Advent (December 7th, 14th, and 21st). We are also having three evening prayer services with the focus on the themes of Advent: they are December 4th, 11th and 18th at 7:30 p.m. There is more information about this in this bulletin. So have a great Advent, and if any one of you wishes to write a reflection on one of the themes, I would be happy to consider putting it in the bulletin (woodscsr@aol.com). Two Snicker bars for doing so!

1. Yearning: The season of Advent is about longing. For ages, human beings have longed for the presence of God in their lives. Jesus Christ is the fulfillment of that longing. Sometimes in our lives, we feel a deep ache or loneliness. We sense that something is missing in our lives. There are other times when we do not notice this ache for something more. Yet, we are made for God. As St. Augustine said, "Our hearts are restless until they rest in thee." We think of the question that Jesus puts to the disciples in the Gospel of John, "What are you looking for?" What are the desires and yearning of my heart? Advent is a good time to pay attention to this yearning.

2. Awake: To pray, to sense God's presence, to hear his voice, we must be awake and attentive. The readings of Advent suggest that we can be asleep and inattentive as God seeks to come into our lives. We all know the feeling of sleep walking through a day. We drink coffee and splash water on our faces to try to move from sleepiness to attentiveness. To be awake and focused is a key task of the spiritual life. In the Liturgy we hear: Wake, Awake, the dawn is coming. Advent is a time to focus and be attentive to the presence of God in our lives.

3. Remember: Advent is a time of remembering. We recall the long centuries that human beings have awaited the coming of the Messiah. We recall God's saving and loving actions in the Old Testament. We remember the story of creation, the call of Abraham, the leadership of Moses, the formation of the nation of Israel, the periods of exile and the words of the prophets. It is a time of anamnesis; God has saved us in the past and he will continue to save us in the present.

4. Hope: The Advent readings are filled with imagery of hope. We read about the lion playing with the child and swords being turned into plowshares. Advent is a time of pondering the kingdom of God. Jesus came into the world two thousand years ago. He continues to come into the world through the power of the Holy Spirit and our Church. Sometimes, the news and world events, as well as personal experiences, can overwhelm us and lead us to the point of despair. Advent is the season of hope. The kingdom of God will reign. There will come a time when every tear shall be wiped away and we shall see you our God as you are, face to face.

5. Preparation: The Advent readings call us to prepare the way of the Lord. We are to make straight the way of the Lord to prepare for his coming. On one level, we are being invited to prepare for the upcoming season of Christmas. In the face of so much commercialism and materialism, the Church invites us to see the days of Advent as something far more than just a time of shopping, wrapping and decorating. Christ has come into our world centuries ago; we seek to grace to open our hearts to that coming.

6. Reconciliation: Advent is a time of reconciliation. One of the key ways we prepare, make ready the way of the Lord, is to remove any obstacles that prevent us from loving God and our neighbor. It is a time of conversion. Many people like to go to confession before Christmas because their hearts are touched by the love of God so evident in this season. We may experience the grace during this season to reach out to someone from whom we have become alienated. Advent is a graced time to pray for the grace to forgive someone who has hurt us in the past and to let go of the bitterness and anger that may fill our soul.

7. Justice: The reading of Advent speak often about justice, about the poor, the foreigner, the exile, the widow and orphans. There are many charities making appeals during this season. We think of the Salvation Army Santas, Toys for Tots, Letters to Santa, and so many other charities that seek help for those who are less fortunate during the days leading up to Christmas. We find ourselves naturally more generous during this season. It is also a time to seek justice for those who have no one to speak for them. Jesus is calling us to make present the kingdom of God.

8. The Second Coming: During the season of Advent we hear that Christ is coming. We know that Jesus was born in Bethlehem many centuries ago. Our faith calls us to know that Christ will come again at the end of time. There will be a time when the world, as we know it, will cease to be and all people will be called to final judgment. We also realize that each of us will have our own personal encounter with the Living God on the day of our death. Each of us will meet God in eternity at the moment of death. Advent is a serious time to think about the coming of Christ at the time of our own death and at the time of the second coming.

9. Patience: We hear the word be patient during the season of Advent. Many of us are not happy with waiting. We want things now and we want them done to meet our expectations. Whether it is waiting in a doctor's office or on a line at Macy's, this experience of waiting can be frustrating. We want our children and spouses to be the way we think they should be. We want the world to operate as we think it should and we grow angry when it does not. We want to be in control and we are not. The first sin, the original sin, is a refusal to accept the limitations of being human. If you eat this fruit, you shall be like God. Advent reminds us we are creatures dependent on the grace of God. Patience allows us to face our limitations and those of others.

10. Joy Our hearts cannot help but rejoice at Christmas. The birth of Christ, and its annual celebration, touch our spirits to their cores with a deep peace and contentment. However confused our world can be, and however difficult our own personal lives can be, we cannot help but rejoice because our Savior Jesus Christ has been born. As the Redemptorist poet, Father John Duffy says of the birth of Christ, "Nothing will ever be the same." This season is a time to rejoice.

Celebrate Advent

Last Lent, we entered into a period of reflection on the Sunday Gospels of Lent. We will continue this program this Advent. You will find in this week's bulletin, the Gospels of the Sundays of Advent, along with reflection questions. As a way of entering more deeply into the season of Advent, you are invited to consider doing the following:

- Read the upcoming Gospel before you come to Mass. Reflect on it. What is this Word of God saying to you? If the reflection questions help you, use them to get you thinking about the Gospel and its meaning for you. Perhaps, you could share the Gospel reflection with your spouse, your children, or family and friends. What a beautiful way to enter into Advent.
- Lastly, it would be great if you could come to all or some of our faith sharing discussions on the upcoming Sunday Gospels. These sessions are about 45 minutes and you say or listen at whatever level of participation you choose. You do not have to be an expert on the Bible; you simply have to be open to reading the Gospel and letting it be part of you.

The dates and places for these gatherings are:

Saturday November 30: St. Alphonsus Hall
(1st Sunday of Advent readings found in last week's bulletin.)

Remaining Sunday readings and reflections found as a separate insert in this bulletin:

Saturday December 7: St Alphonsus Hall
Saturday December 14: Faculty Lounge – School
Saturday December 21: St. Alphonsus Hall

Advent Program at St. Martin of Tours

Last year we had three Wednesday nights during Advent when we paused as a parish community as we sought to enter more deeply into the Advent Season. It is so easy for any one of us to get caught up in the rush of the Christmas Season and wake up on December 26th and wonder where the time went. I believe those who attended the Advent program last year were very pleased with it.

This year we will conduct these hour-long programs beginning at 7:30PM on the following Wednesdays:

- December 4
- December 11
- December 17

It would be great if we could have some volunteers to read, carry a symbol, hand out materials and so forth. If you can volunteer for one specific night or all three, please let me know. You can email me at woodscsr@aol.com or phone 931-0818. The more the merrier!

This simple program is a wonderful way to enter into the Advent Season. You can attend one or all sessions. All are welcome.

RESPECT LIFE COMMITTEEBULLYING

Every Christmas I make sure to watch the movie Christmas classic, "A Christmas Story." You must have seen it through the years. It's a story that takes place in 1940 about an average family from Indiana that goes through a very real Christmas holiday....not the perfect one...but a warm, funny one that many of us experience. Ralphie is a 9 year old who wants only one thing for Christmas...an official RED RYDER CARBINE-ACTION 200 SHOT RANGE MODEL BB RIFLE with a COMPASS IN THE STOCK. He tries to convince his parents, his teacher and even Santa that this is the perfect gift for him...although he keeps hearing, "You'll shoot your eye out!"

I bring up this movie not for all of the experiences Ralphie goes through, but mainly one. The Bully! Ralphie has a little brother, an overprotective mother and a long way to walk to school. Ralphie is just a nice kid. But on that long walk to school he encounters Scott Farkus and his sidekick Grover Dill. I'm sure you have all known a Scott Farkus in your childhood. The one that is sometimes a little bigger, a whole lot meaner, and out to pick on any kid that is a little different, shy or won't stand up to him or her....or even those that do. Ralphie wears glasses and his little brother is so overdressed, that he can hardly walk. A perfect target!

When I was a little girl, I was one of those targets. I was terribly shy, unsure of myself, You know....the kid that tried to get the seat in class at the very back. I was what my mother called, "husky" but in a good way." I had that long walk to school by myself and hid when I could, to avoid....well let's just call him, "Jeremire." If he didn't torture me on the way to school, he made sure he got me on the way home. I walked to school in terror and came home in tears.

US NEWS AND WORLD REPORT: Until recently, mistreatment in middle school was considered a rite of passage. You were merely lucky or unlucky...liked or disliked. Growing awareness about BULLYING and its associated trauma has many communities deeply engaged in efforts to combat and prevent such behavior.

Anti-bullying campaigns kicked into high gear in recent years amid high-profile cases such as Carl Joseph Walker-Hoover of Mass. and Ty Field-Smalley of Utah, 11 year olds who committed suicide after enduring relentless bullying by their peers. President Obama and first lady Michelle hosted the first White House Conference on Bullying Protection in 2011. Bullying statistics in the National Crime Victimization Survey indicate a steady trend in bullying from 2005 - 2011. The most recent year for data collected 28 % of youth ages 12 - 18 reported being bullied, 9% reported being a victim of cyberbullying. Bullying incidences peak in middle school. Those are awkward and vulnerable years when kids start to physically develop and become more aware of their differences. In grade school teachers tend to resolve spats between kids, while middle school students are more likely to resolve issues among themselves.

Often, as with any cycle of abuse, the ONE DOING THE BULLYING may be getting BULLIED BY SOME-ONE ELSE. The BULLY AT SCHOOL can be getting BULLIED AT HOME. THE VICTIM OF TODAY CAN BE THE BULLY OF TOMORROW. Remembering the movie, Ralphie takes on the bully and chases him away. Remembering me, my mother waited for Jeremire on the way home one day...and that was that! Diana Hart Mirando
